

D&D @ THE LIBRARY ONE-SHOT AFTERNOON

Calling all teen adventurers, your time has come! Make plans to join us at the library for a one-shot afternoon in this learn-to-play D&D @ the Library program. All characters will be pre-made and available on-site. This afternoon is beginner friendly, and pre-registration opens January 1.

Space is limited. Laptops will be available to participants who need them.

Please note: this program is separate from our monthly D&D @ the Library program, and requires a separate registration.

Limited to middle and high school students only!

*Pre-registration and free
dndbeyond.com account
are required for play.*
